Fall Jubilee Services

The last week, with its services.

The last week, with its series of special angelistic services at the Gospel Mission th addresses by prominent pastors and reme. Including Hoc. W. E. Andrews, a R. W. Louis Handall, pastor of Rhode and Avenue M. P. Churcis, and Dr. B. Wedderspoon, pastor of Foundry E. Church, and with two days' reption by the laddes in the pariors, at-olded by large numbers of friends and ritors, has been one of great litterest demonstrates one of the warkers. Some of the wealthy patrons have sited the mission building and extremed at design in emission partons have sited in the mission building and extremed at design in the senior partons. The might be missing auditority and continuous of the work.

Tonight Dr. Heavy Anstatt, of the cheran Memorial Church, will speak it is the work.

At the regular weekly meeting at Pythian Temple, 965 Ninth Street North-west, at 2 p. m. Sunday, an address on the subject "An Analysis of Humor, Wit, and Ridicule" will be made by Mr. Mid-dleton Smith. A general discussion of the subject by members of the league and others who may desire to participate will take place.

The pastors of the Broomingdale and Eckington churches have arranged for a united effort in that section of the city but instead they are announcing cts and orging all the members churches to attend the services as a united force for the ad-

BEGINNING OVER AGAIN—AN AUTUMN MEDITATION,

By Dit. SHAILER MATIEWS ont of Pederal Council of Churches of Christ in America)

(President of Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America)
Take on thought about pasterday. That is the corollary of not taking anxious thought about tomerrow. What is done is done.

A theology that does not give us the courage to begin over again is a distressingly poor theology, however logical its formulas.

Irrefreable sine and blunders there are in altogather too great numbers, sine and blunders we can never undo; distoyalties whose blackness we must confess without extensition.

But Christian faith refuses to be feltered by remove or despair. It balleves in the (orgiveness of sine. It dares repent.

To expent is to begin over again in devotion to the better thing we should have done. That is the very alpha of the Gospel.

And we begin over again not with tears, but with joy. The very rins and blunders of the past may be caught up into some divine atonement that may make grace and joy to abound. That is the amagn of sur Gospel. When sin abounded grace did much more abound.

Gospel. When sin abounded grace did much more abound.

Antunn in the natural world is the symbol of the end of an epoch, but it the world of men it is the hour of new beginnings in counting-house, achool, and church. Vacations are over, havests are gathered, plans for another year are being isid.

Let attimine be a challenge to those of us who have grown weary in the struggle with the civil of the world. As we take up our tanks anew ist un dure to rejoice in new opportunities and the received challenge of tasks we must face again. For none of us needs labor alone. The Pather who has so wonderfully blended new beginnings wift the continuity of His work calls us to no herolan of a foriern hope, but to the loy of reaswed service.

"Bagin over again! The Kingdom of God is close to you! Believe the good news."

These are the words with which Jesos himself took up again a work in Gallice he had ones before begun in Judes.
